NATIONAL SECURITY

Firm To Open Bids July 29th On New Offices

The opening of contractors bids on the proposed new corporate headquarters building of National Security Insurance Company has been postponed from July 20 until July 29.

BRUNDIDGE PLANS TRADE DAY

A day of fun and bargains is in store for visitors to Brundidge next Saturday, July 31. Don Dickert, president of the town's Chamber of Commerce stated last Friday, when planning for the chamber's second Trade Day was completed.

The Brundidge shopping area will be turned into a giant pedestrian mall for the special event, Dickert said.

This building will contain the main offices of National Security Insurance Company and its subsidiary, National Security Fire and Casualty Company. Over 100 employees will eventually be employed in the 26,000 square foot facility which will be located north of the intersection of U. S. 84 East and Alabama 87 South.

The lower level of the building will contain a visitor's lobby, training area, employee's lounge and executive offices. An open work area for processing policies, claims, premium payments, etc. will occupy a large part of the upper level along with facilities for electronic data processing, central files, printing and storage.

National Security Company operates in Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi writing primarily life, health and accident insurance on individuals and groups. National Security Fire and Casualty Company insures risks against fire, wind, etc. in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, California, New York and Pennsylvania. Their combined income for 1975 will be approximately $11 million while assets will exceed $15 million.

Dr. J. E. Pittman of Enterprise is Chairman of the Board of Directors of National Security Insurance Company. Mr. W. L. Brunson of Elba is Chairman of the Board of Directors of National Security Fire and Casualty Company and President of both companies.

REGISTRATION

DAYS ANNOUNCED

The Board of Registrars will be opened in the Elba Courthouse annex, August 2 and the Enterprise Courthouse, August 16 for registration of voters.

Commissioners Hear Plea On Courthouse

Coffee County Attorney and one more attorney to attend the annual Association of County Commissioners held in Birmingham July 27-29. Galloway seconded both motions and they were passed.

Kenneth Ball, representing the Coffee County Health Department, came before the commissioners with a proposal regarding the operation of the county landfill and garbage pick-up services. A copy of the proposal was given to each member of the committee for further study.

Bryson Penny was appointed to fill the unexpired term of M.M. Amos on the Bethany Water Authority. James D. Knight, Robert E. Kelley, and W.E. McDaniel were appointed as alternate board members.

Mrs. Elmer Taylor was named to the Cross Trails Regional Library Board.

The meeting was adjourned shortly after an agreement was reached to name the road by the Girl Scout Reservation, state road #125, the "Hummingbird Road."

19 Year Old Youth

Nineteen year old Gerald Davis of Route One, Elba, drowned Saturday afternoon while swimming in a pond near Glenwood.

The youth had taken his younger brothers and sisters swimming in a body of water frequently referred to as the "Rock Ponds." The accident reportedly occurred at 4:00 p.m. when Davis' older brother, Wendell Davis, noticed him gone.

Dorsey Tells Of Jump In Earnings

The Dorsey Corporation (NYSE) announced last week that their earnings for the second quarter and first half of 1976 reached an all-time high. For the fourth consecutive quarter the company has reported record sales levels.

The Board of Directors, consistent with its previously announced intention of paying quarterly dividends subject to results of operations, financial requirements and general business conditions, has declared a dividend of $1.00 per share on its common stock payable on September 1, 1976 to holders of record on August 12, 1976.

The Board has declared a total of $2.00 per share in common dividends, which equals the amount paid in the entire year of 1975 and surpasses the $1.00 per share paid in 1974.

Sales for the first half of 1976 total in excess of $101 million, which is 42% over the record $71 million reported last year.

Earnings of $7.71 per share in the second quarter of 1976 were four times the $1.77 per share reported in the same period last year. Commenting on the results, H. L. Oakes, President, noted that each of the company's three operating divisions contributed to the sales and earnings growth. The Chattanooga Glass subsidiary led the company in levels of profit and profit improvement. Demand for glass containers remained good and resulted in a substantial increase in sales for the period. The chief executive said also that the Dorsey Trailer subsidiary operations continue to show improvement over 1975. The severely depressed conditions which existed in the cargo-trailer industry during 1975 are improving. Sales and profits, especially in the second quarter of 1976, are well ahead of last year and show signs of continuing to improve. The Sewell Plastics subsidiary continued their record of sales and earnings improvement and are in line with the company's plans for profitable and diversified expansion in the plastic container industry.

The Dorsey Corporation is a leading producer of glass and plastic containers and cargo trailers with 21 plants located in 13 states.

Editor Denies Accusation Of Possible Wrong-doings

By Ferrin Cox

"Not so" is our answer to charges that THE ELBA CLIPPER "may or may not" be involved in making any illegal sales to the City of Elba. Nor have we ever made any attempt to hide the fact that we have and do purchase merchandise and supplies from Sawyer Candy Company. The firm is a licensed wholesaler doing business in the Wiregrass and we are a licensed retailer doing business where we can and hopefully at a profit. We practice what we preach when we urge our many readers to shop at home.

Small town weekly newspapers historically engage in some activity other than publishing a newspaper to make a living. Most do commercial printing, sell office supplies and some are in elected office. Being licensed as General Business does not limit us to selling poster paper and ball point pens - if it does someone can get a good deal on some inexpensive tennis rackets, compasses, etc. in our garage - and too, we apologize for running ads offering to sell you a new desk or file cabinet and will throw out all our catalogs that advertise them - that is if we are not allowed to sell them!

However, in December of last year, in a decision made jointly by Mayor Sam Sawyer, the members of the Council and the owner of THE ELBA CLIPPER, it was decided that even though legally we had broken no laws, that in the future we would not sell the City ANYTHING that had been purchased from Sawyer Candy Company. This was done because the profits to THE ELBA CLIPPER and the practice of "Shop at Home" were not worth the political flak the elected officials would have to face with "Doubting Thomases."

The entire matter began about the time Sam Sawyer was appointed Mayor. Members of the City Council pointed out that Alabama law prohibited him from selling to the City (unless he filed incorporation papers and then it is legal). Later, the publisher of THE ELBA CLIPPER pointed out to the Councilmen, Mayor Sawyer and others listening that THE ELBA CLIPPER bought from Sawyer and also sold to the City and questioned the legality of this. The councilmen noted that as long as it was legal, they wanted to "Shop at Home." The legality was checked with a least two lawyers and the councilmen were informed. Later when several people outside the council began to question the practice and disagree with the licensed lawyers it was decided that THE ELBA CLIPPER would stop selling anything to the City that had been purchased from Sawyer Candy Company.

To point out the extreme measures the city fathers have gone in their efforts to prevent "Doubting Thomases" from having a party with insinuations of wrong-doings note the following facts: Councilman Ronnie Vaughan works for a chemical firm that is incorporated. The law does not prevent his company from selling to the City of Elba, Vaughan sells to Opp, Andalusia, Florida, Enterprise, Troy, Luverne, Geneva, Dothan and other area towns but NOT to Elba. The reason for this is that city officials (including Vaughan) felt that the City of Elba had had enough problems without having to argue with people who would think it was against the law or who would be confused by the claims of those who thought it was against the law.

We feel confident that anyone who would take the time to check the selling price on items we sold to the city will find we sold them as cheaply or cheaper than they could have been purchased anywhere else - and many cases the alternate was sending your tax money out of town a little sooner.

The taxpayers of Elba can rest assured that IF THE ELBA CLIPPER had any intent to defraud the City of Elba (or anyone) the years of experience in acting as a public watchdog have given us enough insight into how it is done that it wouldn't be a matter of general knowledge discussed in OPEN meetings and with anyone who knew of our actions and asked for an explanation.

At this point, people who have asked us why it is such a big deal now if you stopped it last year, and they admit they have known about it since that time. Our first reaction is to draw the obvious conclusion and note that it was done just before the city elections and in spite of the "may or may not" disclaimers the half-truths and statements taken out of context leave the voters of Elba in a state of confusion.

Then we keep hearing reports of "they (they - meaning those responsible for and publishing the story of alleged wrongdoings) are mad with you (mad with Ferrin Cox)." After hearing this from several sources and even walking down the street, we did some telephoning to find the basis for that story. After two days and five long distance telephone calls and several "hold" and transfers we find that several weeks ago a postal inspector was in Coffee County checking on mailing permits. The man we talked with in Chattanooga was not the one who was in Elba but he was aware of the visit. The only thing we can think of that would fit the stories we keep hearing is that something was/is wrong with some weekly newspapers in this area concerning reports filed weekly with the post office or something concerning the use of second class classification (reserved for subscriptions only).

Second class permits to mail are very important to newspapers and magazines. In this day of high first class postage we are a bit slow to admit that THE ELBA CLIPPER postage bill last week was about $17.00. If we had mailed on a bulk rate basis (like circulars) it would have cost $75.00 for the FIRST one thousand putting our weekly postage over $100 a week. This 2nd class charge varies every week and is based on the number of pre-paid subscriptions mailed to each mail zone and is further complicated by the weight of each paper to the sixth decimal and also the percentage of advertising in each paper. As low as this seems to our readers, it is 500 to 600% of what it was ten or twelve years ago.

We still don't know any way to fit this into being mad with THE ELBA CLIPPER but will admit that an inspection by those postal inspectors is dreaded by publishers as much as the Internal Revenue man is by taxpayers. Even though we may be clean, the inspectors make us all uneasy because they can assess back postage or even pull mailing permits.

The stories we hear vary. Some tell us it is an effort to get revenge on Mayor Sawyer for something or another. Others say it is an effort to do something or other to Ferrin Cox and others believe some politician is behind the whole deal.

One other reason advanced by a local citizen was that it was just a battle of two newspaper editors. Well, I have watched newspapers fight each other in a number of other towns and have often marveled at the way they make a living urging competing business to advertise, yet are unable to cope with the pressure of competing themselves.

We can't answer the "why" question but whatever the reasons you can be assured it is frustrating to know that it is impossible to completely counter half-truths and statements taken out of context, especially when politics are involved.

In conclusion, we categorically deny any wrongdoing on our part, alleged or otherwise.

POOR ORIGINAL

BRAINSTORMS

With Ferrin Cox

Election time for the City of Elba is just around the corner. There were about 1300 voters to cast their vote four years ago and I am getting the feeling that not many more will show up August 10. A number of the candidates have noted that they are not getting much interest from the voters. This could be one of three things - first the voters may have already made up their minds and don't want to discuss the matter; second they may catch fire during the last week of the campaign, third they may really not care.

Someone called my hand for saying last week that I just might not vote in the presidential election. Seems this person remembered me urging voters to vote for someone but be sure to vote. This is true and rather than back-track let me try to convince you that what I really meant was, "I don't like Carter's running mate. Now I must add I don't like Reagan's running mate either. My only hope is that Ford will be the Republican nominee and will not try to out-do the others with the liberal Y.P. candidates. If not may be 'ax handle' Madrox will manage to run on one of the smaller tickets and heck, I will just vote for him as a protest to the others and even though I would be embarrassed to have him for President!

We are running a front page story on the charges that you editor "may or may not" be stealing your money. If anyone has any further questions, I hope they will feel free to call or come by. One lady called Thursday and said she just wanted to hear the other side of the story. She didn't like kick-backs with her tax money but as long as we were only making a fair profit she was satisfied. This is my feelings exactly. To tell the truth, I am a little bit disappointed that we didn't get a "concerned citizen" letter either taking us to task for our actions or asking for an explanation.

The one courthouse for Coffee County is again in the news with another group asking the county commission to do something. I guess any real movement to consolidate the court houses would have to come from the commissioners but the law clearly states that the registered voters of the county must petition the governor before any election can be held. A lot of people agree with the one courthouse idea but when you begin talking about where to put it, you get more ideas than you can shake a stick at. This will prove to be the big problem if anyone ever seriously attempts to do anything about the courthouse issue.

Efforts to control inflation in the good ole U.S. have so far failed to be very successful. A question if it can ever be done there are so many people these days who make their living off of inflation itself. They make investments with the thought in mind that inflation will make them a profit. I don't know what will happen to Coffee County come August 31st and no word has been received from Montgomery on filling his place. Terry Butts was elected to take over in January and normally in such situations he would be appointed to fill out this term but nothing official has been heard as far as I know. Of course Judge Paul will continue to work as a judge under Alabama's system and will work in this area until he finishes the cases he has in progress but the overflow is entirely too much for Judge Green to handle by himself.

My family and I were in various parts of Georgia last week and one of the towns we popped into was Plains, the home of Jimmy Carter. The old railroad station has been turned into campaign headquarters and the tourist is keeping it wrapped up. By Friday night we were in the Calloway Gardens area and stumbled into an old home that had been converted into a restaurant. We couldn't read most of the menu but the bill was very clear-two plates of crab legs was $24.10.

RE-ELECT

BEN CARPENTER

COUNCILMAN -

PLACE 5

CITY OF ELBA

"I have enjoyed serving the last four years and have not missed a single council meeting. I have tried to respond to any official request made of me.

My only reason for wanting to serve on the council is the personal satisfaction I get for a job well done. I realize there is a great deal yet to be done, especially job opportunities and recreational facilities are badly needed. But Elba has made progress during a time of nation-wide financial difficulty.

I love Elba, I believe in it, and I hope to have the chance to serve four more years on the council.

I therefore solicit your vote on August 10.

SAFE WATER SUPPLY

This week I would like to discuss with the citizens of Coffee County the necessity of a water supply for rural homes.

Do you get your water from a well or spring? If you do you want to be sure your water supply is pure and safe to be sure your drinking water is safe you must protect it.

Sources of ground water; we all know that people may get very sick from drinking impure water. Even water that looks clean may be loaded with disease germs. These germs can cause typhoid fever, dysentery, diarrhea or intestinal diseases.

You don't want to take a chance on the water your family drinks from your well. No matter what type of well you have, it is of some danger if you don't protect it. You may be planning to dig or drill a new well. You want it to be fairly near your house. But be sure it is uphill from your barnyard, privy, sewer or septic tank. It should be at least 100 feet from any of these places; disease germs may travel through the soil into the ground water that feeds your well.

Ground water that travels through layers of sand, gravel, or soft sandstone is usually safe. Water that filters through clay is clean and safe, but it runs so slowly that it may not supply enough water for your farm. But water that moves through porous rock, like limestone or broken rock, may carry disease germs for long distances.

A dug well goes down deep enough to reach shallow ground water.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

July 26, 1976

Birmingham, Alabama

Dear Ferrin, Thank you for your statement of concern regarding the illness of our infant daughter, Robyn.

We are completely overwhelmed by the prayers, visits, phone calls, cards, letters, gifts and flowers. If all goes well, the doctors say that we might return home in 2 weeks. Elba has to be the nicest place on earth to live. The tremendous support from back home has made our stay here at Children's Hospital much easier.

Sincerely, Jim and Myrna Rhoades

DEATHS

JOHN PARKER

Funeral services for John Parker, 56, of Route 3, Elba, were held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at the Fairview Baptist Church with the Rev. W. C. "But" Goodson officiating. Burial followed in the church cemetery with Seay's Brown Service Funeral Home directing.

Mr. Parker died Monday morning in a Pensacola, Fla., hospital.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sara Nell Parker, of Elba; four daughters, Misses Dianne and Sharon Parker, both of Elba; Mrs. Jane Motley of Prattville, and Mrs. Susan Salter, of Chancellor; five sons, John F. Parker, Jr. of Talladega, James E. Parker of Enterprise, Joel Parker of Samson, and Robert and Gary Parker, both of Elba; three sisters, Mrs. Thelma McLeod and Mrs. Eloise Morris, both of Decatur, Ga., and Mrs. Margaret Robinson of Enterprise; a brother, S. Sanford Parker, Jr. of Conyers, Ga., and four grandchildren.

water. It is hard to keep a dug well clean and safe; dirt and germs wash in at the top. To be safe, a dug well must have a water-tight casing and a concrete cover. The lower part of the casing can be made of stone, brick, or tile. But the upper 10 feet of the casing should be poured in place, and at least 6 inches thick. The curbing around the top should be high enough above the ground to keep surface water out of the well. A dug well is not as sanitary as a drilled well, and it costs more to build and keep in good condition.

A drilled well goes down deep enough to reach a good supply of ground water. The machine drills a hole through soil and rock, a water-tight steel pipe, or well-casing, is driven down to the water, or at least to a bed-rock where it is sealed below ground level. The casing keeps the ground from caving in, it also keeps impure water out of the well. To keep surface water out of the well, concrete should be poured around the upper 20 feet of the casing.

The casing must be large enough for the drop-pipe and cylinder of the pump to go through. The top of the casing should stick up at least 12 inches above the ground.

This allows you to pour a concrete platform, 6 inches thick, around the casing; the casing will then stand 1 inch above the platform. This platform should be at least 4 feet across and should slope away from the well. It should go down several inches below the rest of the platform. This keeps dirty water from getting into the well. If you plan to build a pump house, the platform will need to be 6 or 8 feet across.

Remember the following points in testing the safety of your well:

Homemaking Skills For Safety & Economy

Clogged drains are the most common plumbing problem we face. But happily they are also the easiest to prevent!

Clogs are formed by materials like grease, food scraps, hair and even soap scum that collect at the base of the U-shaped pipe under the sink.

Here are some tips to keep your drains running freely:

* Don't put hot grease or oil down the kitchen drain.

* Use a sink strainer to trap food particles.

* Don't flush coffee grounds down drains.

* Once a week use Drain Power, the one-second drain opener that works without hazardous lyes or acids, to help prevent clogs from building.

* Don't dispose of hair from combs and brushes in the sink.

Once you become aware of how to prevent clogs, it's easy to make sure your drains remain clear. And teach others in your family to be as careful as you are about what goes down the drain!

The children attending "Story Hour" got a special treat last Thursday when Fireman Bill Walden took everyone to the fire station. When the story was over, Story Hour guest, Bill Walden, took the kids to the fire station and let them crawl onto the fire truck.

Cancer Answerline

This column is brought to you by the American Cancer Society, Alabama Division, and the Comprehensive Cancer Center, University of Alabama in Birmingham. Send questions to: CANCER ANSWERLINE, 205 Mortimer Jordan Hall, University of Alabama in Birmingham, Birmingham, AL 35294.

Mrs. H. L. writes: "I've been on and off diets most of my life and use a great deal of artificial sweeteners. I prefer the cyclamate kind and would like to see them in use again."

ANSWERLINE: Probably not and in May, the Food and Drug Administration announced that despite more than two years of additional intensive study, it could not lift the 1969 ban on cyclamates because of unresolved questions of safety. In addition to suspicions that cyclamates might lead to genetic damage, there is the consideration that cyclamates might be a weakly-acting cause of cancer.

A reader asks: "What is CME?"

ANSWERLINE: That is an abbreviation for a three-day (cyclophosphamide, methotrexate, 5-Fluorouracil) therapy being used in Milan, Italy, as this country to help breast cancer patients at high risk of recurrence of their disease. This approach, which does entail side effects, has been tried for a relatively short time, and while the preliminary results are promising, more time must pass before scientists can speak definitively about its usefulness.

A girl pro writes: "I recently had a stool test which showed blood in the stool (a possible cancer sign) by placing a small sample on special paper treated with gum guaiac, a resin from trees found in Haiti and the Dominican Republic. The idea of using the resin was first discovered by a Dutch researcher more than a century ago. The test is also known as an occult (hidden) blood test."

A student teacher asks: "Is it true that more black men die of cancer than white?"

ANSWERLINE: Twenty-five years ago, the incidence of cancer among black men was lower than that among whites. Today, however, both incidence and mortality are higher for black men. This may be due to adverse environmental and socioeconomic factors. The pattern of cancer deaths among American black people has something to do with the fact that they are more likely than whites to have their disease diagnosed at an early stage when it is most easily treated.

Lloyd Thoren, who founded the Dial-atheist telephone service to counter the efforts of Dial-a-Prayer, is compiling his taped messages for a record album. Thoren said he is also working to get his Dial-atheist telephone messages back on the telephone lines. The Indiana Bell Company, he claimed, "shut me down" because of being profane and foul.

Thoren said, "the religious callers did not like the way he referred to the Holy Trinity." Thoren recently was named "Atheist-of-the-Year" at a National Meeting of Atheists, for his "distinguished work in the field of communications."

Thoren, a fifty year old atheist from Petersburg, Indiana said in his "Atheist-of-the-Year" speech, "I referred to the Holy Trinity as Sky Daddy, J. C. Superstar, and the Holy Spook."

Youth Activities Week Set At Methodist Church

Youth Activities week has been set at Elba United Methodist Church for August 1-3. Each day will find the youth people engaged in a variety of activities. At 7:00 p.m. each evening there will be a worship service in the sanctuary. The young people invite all the people of this area, adults as well as youth, to these worship services.

Guest preacher for the evening services will be the Rev. Bill Flannagan, of Mobile, Ala. "Brother Bill" Flannagan was born and reared in the Virginia mountain town of Bristol, Virginia. During his High School and College days, he was active in all the athletic events and lettered in most of them.

Following graduation from High School, Bill continued his education at King College, Bristol, Tennessee. It was there that he majored in Psychology and minored in Education. During those college years, sensing a need in the teaching field, and particularly interested in coaching, Bill began to intensify his preparation for a coaching profession.

Following graduation from Union Seminary in 1962, Brother Bill began his first pastorate in Jackson, Alabama. In 1966, Bill accepted a pastorate in Wilmington, North Carolina, and in 1968 returned to South Alabama to serve the Cottage Hill Presbyterian Church in Mobile. He has continued in that pastorate which has been acknowledged as "one of the fastest growing Presbyterian Churches in the area."

In each of his pastorates Brother Bill Flannagan has been involved in extensive counseling with young men and women. He has traveled

The Bible In Our Bicentennial Pat Boone Says Bible is Only Answer for Tomorrow

Singer Pat Boone, an outspoken Christian, says nothing continues to shine so brightly in the darkening sky of our times as the Word of God. "It has been America's hope, foundation and molding force," Boone endorsed The Freedom Edition Bible, a family Bible in the King James Version, with special preface sections commemorating our bicentennial and "American heritage under God."

He is also involved in Intercessors for America, a Christian calling for people to pray for the nation's leaders, to fulfill a Biblical promise that the country can be healed in this manner.

surroundings of early America, fathers drilled their offspring in the virtues and blessings of a life that honors the Bible. "It was expected that our leaders had learned their ways from the pages of the Bible, and were committed to following its high ideals in their public offices."

But today there are those who would throw away all such restraints, laws and ethical codes."

Boone cited two particular passages from the Bible. He said the Old Testament (1 Timothy 2:1 and 2) calls for us to pray for "all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty."

Also, Jesus (11 Chronicles 7:14) promises that if his people will humble themselves, and pray, that He will then "hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

Boone has associated himself with The Freedom Edition Bible because he feels so strongly that "No book has molded the life of a nation as the Bible has shaped America."

"By whatever means we can cause more Bibles to find their way into American homes it is certain to be a blessing—and this particular edition is testimony to America's great heritage under God."

"It is an exciting and inspiring volume, with all of the enduring volumes of a good family Bible."

"It is relevant, of course, as it has been through the ages. But it seems especially relevant to modern times, and the special sections on our God and country theme have filled the Boone family with patriotic understanding of this relevance."

Pat, his wife Shirley (who is daughter of the late country singer Red Foley), and two of his daughters reside in Beverly Hills, California. Their two other daughters are married and also live in the area.

When the Boone family is in town between recording, television, and film engagements, they hold Monday evening Bible studies in their home for friends, including many show business personalities.

The Freedom Edition Bible is not for sale in stores, but is offered by this newspaper through mail order.

Elba Places Second In Babe Ruth Tourney

By: Mike Capps

Elba's Babe Ruth team dropped a heart-breaker to Troy in the area final to lose their chance at a state play-off berth. Elba lost its opening game to Troy 6-4 in ten innings. Elba had numerous chances to ice the game in the extra innings only to lose them with bad base running. Elba came back to defeat Opp 7-5 and Greenville 11-2 to reach the finals. To win the tourney Elba would have to defeat Troy twice. In the finals, Troy jumped out to an eight run lead after two innings, but Elba battled back with six runs in the third. Troy scored three more in the fourth to stretch their lead to 11-6. Elba's bats got hot in the fifth when they scored nine runs to give Elba a four run lead after five innings. Troy bounced back with the help of poor Elba fielding to score two runs in the six, two runs in the seventh and one run in the eighth. All five runs were unearned. Elba didn't threaten any more and Troy had won the Area I title.

Elba was led by pitchers Larry Ware, Marty Marler, Vince Bowers, Frank Thomas and at the plate by Ashley Young, Perry Fuller, and G. P. Carpenter.

MOTOR POOL

Dave Mader went to Twin City Speedway this past Saturday night and made it three big feature races in a row by easily outclassing the remainder of the field. Mader took the lead on lap five from Jack Young (Elba) and held it for the rest of the race, and was never really threatened. Jack Young, who drove a very consistent race finished second while Lamar Hallford, Roy McGowan, and Laron Smith rounded out the top five.

The Big Hobby Feature race was won by Phil Cox in a quite exciting fashion. This race was marred by quite a few caution flags as a result of spin-outs. Darrell Hicks finished this race in second position while Joe Smith was third. Larry Adcock, an up and coming young driver from Elba, placed fourth in this 15 lap event.

Both Phil Cox and Joe Smith claimed victories in the Hobby heat races, while Sonny Glover (Dothan) was winning the Helmed Dash for the Late-Model-Sportsman. Laron Smith (New Brockton) captured a victory in the L-M-S slow heat race while the fast heat was won by Dave Mader. Earnie Dean and Jack Young followed Mader to the checkered flag in this race. This Saturday night at Twin City Speedway, you will get to witness a football derby. Two teams with six cars to the team will try to push a small car painted like a football across their opponents goal line. Also at Twin City this Saturday night will be the big #54 sponsored by Pepsi Cola. This is a car driven on the Grand National Circuit by Lennie Pond.

All this Twin City Speedway this Saturday night. So I will see you there for an evening of good clean family entertainment.

Jeffcoat Wins District Softball

By: Mike Capps

Jeffcoat Tractor of Dothan were upset victors over the Dothan Royals in the District Softball Tournament. Jeffcoat defeated the Royals 21-11 Saturday night in a steady rain. The winners had three round trippers while the Royals had four. The Royals would have to defeat Jeffcoat twice to take the title. In the first game Sunday the Royals gained revenge with a whopping 32-1 victory in five innings. The Royals pounded twelve homers in the rout. In the finale Jeffcoat scored four runs in the seventh to take a 18-14 victory over the Royals. Seven local teams will represent this district in the state. Elba Motors qualified for a chance to go to the State Tournament at Cullman with a victory over El Palacio.

By not smoking, you are encouraging others to make the same decision. Many doctors have already stopped smoking, undoubtedly with this among their reasons. Many parents and teachers will probably follow. In addition to safeguarding their own health, they will be setting a good example for their patients, their pupils, or their sons and daughters. They will be safeguarding the rights of non smokers.

By not smoking yourself, you help make smoking less acceptable socially. Conversely, every time you light a cigarette, you make it harder for others not to smoke.

New and much effective ways are needed to counter the persuasive aura of sociability that cigarette smoking has acquired in our society. Here every teacher and school administrator can play a significant role.

Perhaps the most fruitful work will be done with groups of students. The influence of peer groups on behavior has been demonstrated repeatedly. With young people in leadership positions, new social climates may well be developed that will be far more conducive to nonsmoking than smoking.
